

Ontario Brokers Donate Blankets to Local Cause and Raise Awareness at Inaugural The Dominion Curling Club Championship

(Toronto, Ontario) November 28th, 2009. Today, Ontario insurance brokers donated 50 fleece magenta blankets to the Canadian Paraplegic Association Ontario while volunteering at the inaugural The Dominion Curling Club Championship.

Every year, the Insurance Brokers Association of Ontario (IBAO) donates thousands of fleece blankets to a variety of charities around the province. It is a reminder that insurance brokers are tremendously committed and active in their communities.

The Dominion Curling Club Championship is Canada's first-ever national championship for club curlers. The event opened November 24th at St. George's Golf and Country Club in Toronto and will close this Sunday with Toronto Mayor David Miller and celebrity curler Sherry Middaugh congratulating the winners at the event's closing banquet.

"IBAO is thrilled to support and volunteer our time at this exciting event," said IBAO CEO, Randy Carroll. "Insurance brokers are committed to playing an active role in their community and this event showcased diverse communities coming together - it's the perfect fit."

Local insurance brokers were also on hand to raise awareness about IBAO's online insurance quote engine www.MyInsuranceShopper.ca, which provides consumers with the opportunity to receive online quotes for home and auto insurance without asking for their credit rating.

"Brokers are committed to finding the best coverage that fits consumers' needs and MyInsuranceShopper.ca demonstrates how much choice brokers can offer Ontarians," concluded Carroll.
